

JT-Q1200 Guidance for JT-Q1200 Series Standards(Intelligent Network)

1. Relations with international standards

This standard specifies the guidance for the JT-Q1200 series of TTC standards, and this corresponds to the ITU-T Q.1200, which specifies the overviews and the guidelines of the ITU-T Q.1200 series Recommendations.

2. Summary of differences between ITU-T Recommendation and this standard

2.1 Optional items

None

2.2 National items

None

2.3 Others

ITU-T Q.1200 Recommendation describes the overviews and the guidelines of the intelligent network international recommendations, ITU-T Q.1200 Series Recommendations, whereas this standard describes the overviews and the guidelines of the intelligent network national standards, JT-Q.1200 series standards. Thus, the direct correspondence of the section layout does not exist.

2.4 Comparison Tables on Section Layout with Original Recommendations

As mentioned in 2.3, the section layout of this standard does not correspond to the ITU-T Q.1200 Recommendation.
